Important Note: Your designation of a successor holder/annuitant or beneficiary will not be revoked or changed automatically by any future marriage, divorce or relationship breakdown. Should you wish to change your successor holder/annuitant or beneficiary in the event of a marriage, divorce, relationship breakdown or for any other reason, you will have to do so by means of a new designation. Any time you wish to make a change to either a successor holder/annuitant or a beneficiary designation, you will need to complete a new designation form that will revoke all previous successor holder/annuitant or beneficiary designations you have made in the past for the Account referenced in this form.

2 Successor Holder/Annuitant Designation (where permitted by law) (applicable to TFSA and RRIF)

In Quebec, the designation of a successor holder/annuitant can only be made in a will or marriage contract.

Successor Holder/Annuitant: Only your spouse or common-law partner, as defined in the Income Tax Act (Canada), can be a successor holder/annuitant. In the event of your death, the name on the Account is changed to the name of the successor holder/annuitant, who will continue to hold and operate the TFSA or RRIF as their own.

6 Authorization and Consent

I hereby REVOKE any previous designation of successor holder/annuitant and/or beneficiary(ies) which I may have made for the above Account.

I DESIGNATE the person(s) I have named above as successor holder/annuitant and/or beneficiary(ies) to receive the proceeds of the Account upon my death in accordance with the Account terms and the Declaration of Trust and of applicable law.

I DIRECT the Trustee to administer the proceeds in accordance with the Declaration of Trust. Among other things, this means that upon my death, and if I do not designate a successor holder/annuitant for my TFSA or RRIF who survives me, the Trustee will distribute the net proceeds of the Account in accordance with the operative beneficiary designation, if any. If I designate more than one person above as beneficiary on my RRSP, RRIF or TFSA, the proceeds will be divided among those persons named above in the percentage of shares I indicated above; if the percentages are not clear, the proceeds will be divided equally among my surviving named beneficiaries; if the percentages do not total 100%, then any surplus or shortfall will be distributed pro rata amongst my surviving named beneficiaries. Should any named beneficiary not survive me, his/her share will be divided equally among those designated beneficiaries that do survive me if no contingent beneficiary(ies) are designated. If only one beneficiary survives me and there are no contingent beneficiary(ies) designated or if I designate only one beneficiary, that person will receive all the proceeds. If no person survives me or I make no beneficiary designation, the proceeds will be distributed to my estate. I acknowledge that the Declaration of Trust provides that, prior to making any payments, the Trustee may require evidence satisfactory that this designation has not been subsequently revoked or amended by me and that such evidence may include letters probate or similar documents.
